UC San Diego is creating an unprecedented opportunity for our students, faculty, and the entire San Diego community.

With the North Torrey Pines Living and Learning Neighborhood, we are building capacity to meet growing demand, as we anticipate 40,000 students on campus in the years ahead. As we embrace our physical, intellectual, and cultural transformation, we are creating a vibrant, interconnected community that will form synergies, inspire breakthroughs, and make waves both here and across the world.

Once completed in 2020, this new nonconventional live, learn, and play community will include a new home for Sixth College, the Arts and Humanities Building, the Social Sciences Public Engagement Building, the Craft Center, and opportunities for recreation, dining, and more.

Welcome to the neighborhood.

Continue the nontradition

At the University of California San Diego, challenging convention is our most cherished tradition. The Campaign for UC San Diego is a $2 billion university-wide comprehensive fundraising effort to transform the student experience, our campus, and ultimately the way humanity approaches problems and develops solutions.

The North Torrey Pines Living and Learning Neighborhood is our nexus of experiential education, residential community, and academic partnership. Our next generation of innovators will flourish here. Commingling students, faculty, and the community will improve the vitality of campus and San Diego as a whole. And nontraditional collaborations in scholarship, research, and results will align.

Join us as we expand the possibilities for our nonconventional student experience, campus community, and research and innovation.

For more information about supporting the North Torrey Pines Living and Learning Neighborhood at UC San Diego or making other contributions to advance our vital work, please contact (858) 822-3786 or campaign@ucsd.edu.
UC San Diego is creating an unprecedented opportunity for our students, faculty, and the entire San Diego community.

With the North Torrey Pines Living and Learning Neighborhood, we are building capacity to meet growing demand, as we anticipate 40,000 students on campus in the years ahead. As we embrace our physical, intellectual, and cultural transformation, we are creating a vibrant, interconnected community that will form synergies, inspire breakthroughs, and make waves both here and across the world.

Once completed in 2020, this new nonconventional live, learn, and play community will include a new home for Sixth College, the Arts and Humanities Building, the Social Sciences Public Engagement Building, the Craft Center, and opportunities for recreation, dining, and more.

Welcome to the neighborhood.

Continue the nontradition

At the University of California San Diego, challenging convention is our most cherished tradition. The Campaign for UC San Diego is a $2 billion university-wide comprehensive fundraising effort to transform the student experience, our campus, and ultimately the way humanity approaches problems and develops solutions.

The North Torrey Pines Living and Learning Neighborhood is our nexus of experiential education, residential community, and academic partnership. Our next generation of innovators will flourish here. Commingling students, faculty, and the community will improve the vitality of campus and San Diego as a whole. And nontraditional collaborations in scholarship, research, and results will align.

Join us as we expand the possibilities for our nonconventional student experience, campus community, and research and innovation.

For more information about supporting the North Torrey Pines Living and Learning Neighborhood at UC San Diego or making other contributions to advance our vital work, please contact (858) 822-3786 or campaign@ucsd.edu.
Sixth College’s four residential buildings will house 2,000 students, creating shared experiences, encouraging personal connection, and inviting participation and discovery.

The Social Sciences Public Engagement Building will be a place for faculty, students, and the broader community to work together to generate ideas about quality of education and quality of life.

The Arts and Humanities Building will be a physical hub where ideas and ideals will thrive — expanding, testing, and transforming the existing conventions of intellectual exchange among and across disciplines.

The lobby of the 600-seat, concert-caliber auditorium will be home to the Stuart Collection’s 20th public artwork, Alexis Smith’s 20 x 60-foot Same Old Paradise.

The Craft Center’s classrooms, dedicated studios, and specialized facilities will provide ample opportunities to activate connections, conversations, and community.
At the University of California San Diego, challenging convention is our most cherished tradition. The Campaign for UC San Diego is a $2 billion university-wide comprehensive fundraising effort to transform the student experience, our campus, and ultimately the way humanity approaches problems and develops solutions.

The North Torrey Pines Living and Learning Neighborhood is our nexus of experiential education, residential community, and academic partnership. Our next generation of innovators will flourish here. Commingling students, faculty, and the community will improve the vitality of campus and San Diego as a whole. And nontraditional collaborations in scholarship, research, and results will align.

Join us as we expand the possibilities for our nonconventional student experience, campus community, and research and innovation.

For more information about supporting the North Torrey Pines Living and Learning Neighborhood at UC San Diego or making other contributions to advance our vital work, please contact (858) 822-3786 or campaign@ucsd.edu.

Welcome to the neighborhood.